

Saving the Arts: How The Virtual Detective Became the #1 Artistic Team Building Experience

The Premier Online Theater Features Murder Mysteries, Escape Rooms, Detective-Themed Scavenger Hunts, and Much More

(Charlotte North Carolina) - Entertainment experiences were among the first to shut down in March of 2020. Due to this shift, schools, businesses, and organizations have turned to technology to maintain the integrity and artistry of their craft. The Dinner Detective Dinner Theater's team of veteran thespians were faced with a particular challenge. How do you wrap a premiere dinner entertainment experience into a safe, virtual format? Introducing The Virtual Detective, the 100% online entertainment experience, wrapping all of the best attractions for family outings or team building into one.

Unprecedented times call for innovation and creativity, and this experienced team of performers rose to the occasion to save the industry they love. Featuring murder mysteries, escape rooms, detective-themed scavenger hunts, and much more, the Virtual Detective includes live actors to moderate every engagement, interact with the group, and create a performance that customers are not likely to forget.

Families, friends, co-workers, and everyone alike, are forced into a virtual match of wits to collaborate their way out of unique situations, from any location in the world. Each experience is designed to touch on a different aspect of collaboration, including:

- Racing against the clock to win the scavenger hunt
- Figuring out "who did it", in the murder mystery series
- Solving the clues to escape any of the themed escape rooms
- Encourage creativity and imaginative thinking with the Children's Mystery Makers

The need for an escape from reality and laughter has never been more necessary, and the creators of The Virtual Detective sought to find a way to continue to serve their customers amidst this global pandemic, by creating a fun, safe, one-of-a-kind adventure; without the safety concerns, and without the technical glitches that most mainstream virtual experiences provide.

Crafted by industry professionals using top-tier technology, The Virtual Detective creates a seamless user experience to ensure an effortless and interactive team-building experience.

"By the end of March, we found ourselves in a precarious situation: tens of thousands of loyal customers from around the world and no way to entertain them. Everyone from our general admission customers to corporate, to military and colleges, all wanting to laugh and forget for just a few moments all the negativity happening in the world. It was during those dark times that we wanted to help. We wanted to let them know the theater wasn't dead, it was just going to look different. It was at that point, we decided to rewrite the rules of what could be done virtually and theatrically." - Scott O'Brien, Executive Producer

Through proof of concept, dedication to providing an exclusive experience, and unwavering commitment to their client base; The Virtual Detective's purpose-driven vision has come to fruition.
